Christ walks the world again
 New bound on high emprise,
 With music in his golden mouth
 And laughter in his eyes.
 The primrose springs before him
 As he treads the dusty way
 The Singer's crown of thorns
 Has burst in blossom like the "May"
 He heedeth not the morrow,
 He never looks behind
 Singing "Gloria to the open sky:
 And peace to all mankind!"
 Singing "Brother, brother.
 Will you come away with me?
 Was never man lived longer
 For the hoarding of his breath.
 Here be dragons to be slain,
 Here be rich rewards to gain;
 Of us perish in the seeking
 Why, how small a thing is death."

First Day -

In the simple, Quaker meeting house -
deep silence reigned,While in the straight backed pews
The scattered Jew sat, thinking.Their thoughts -- of what -- of whom?
Who knows?I thought of those who faced me
In the years gone by.
Some now to their reward.But in the sunshine, in the yard
The tall trees, their branches swaying,
Whispered together of the love of God.
